

FINALIST: Christina Warn.

'Venue was incredible'

KINGSTEIGNTON-based singer Christina Warn is on a high after competing in the national finals of Open Mic UK at Portsmouth Guildhall last weekend.

Despite not winning the competition, she enjoyed the experience.

'I felt so privileged to have made it through to the Open Mic UK finals,' she said.

'There were some amazing acts on the night and the venue was incredible. It was without doubt the biggest crowd that I have ever performed to.'

She sang the classic number Time To Say Goodbye.

'I didn't feel that nervous, I was more excited. Performing on a stage that size was the best feeling in the world,' said Miss Warn.

'I chose that song as it is such a well-known classical piece. I had a great deal of feedback from family and friends who all said how much they loved the song. I really like the blend of Italian and English lyrics.'

She is thrilled that she got to the final and is grateful to her family, friends and fans for backing her in the contest.

'I would like to thank everyone who has supported me through this whole process,' said Miss Warn.

'Many people were text voting for me before and during the show and I also had wonderful support in the audience on the night, I really appreciate it.'

Miss Warn will be showing off her singing skills at the switch on of Chudleigh Christmas lights on Tuesday.

'It will be my first live outdoor gig which is exciting and I have chosen some lovely classical pieces to sing,' she said.

'It will be wonderful to perform to a local audience and hopefully the gig will get everyone into the Christmas spirit.'
